

Video Maker

ABOUT COBLI

Cobli offers a new way for businesses to manage their logistics. We use IoT and artificial intelligence to deliver the best user experience by connecting people, vehicles, products, and services through our web and mobile platforms. We are a high-growth company, having tripled last year and planning to double in 2018. We have been recognized by the media and from Harvard University by winning the Harvard New Ventures Competition, becoming the first company in Latin America to receive the prize.

ABOUT THE JOB

We're looking for a talented video producer who is passionate about visual storytelling and has a remarkable vision for aesthetics to join our design team to create and manage the production and post-production of our video shoots and edits. If you like to think about projects from scratch and to question and change the way things work, this is the place for you :) We seek talented technical people but also highly valued individuals who will be actively engaged in creating and scaling our culture. We believe that the ability to work in an autonomous and energetic team is as important as having good craft skills. We don't have many formal rules (ie. you decide your working hours), and we don't believe in micromanagement, but we expect responsibility and high performance in return.

SKILLS AND REQUIREMENTS

- Experience in filming
 - Experience in production and editing
 - Visual composition skills for motion graphics
 - Ability to apply project methodologies to your day-to-day work: you think about the content and you structure the problem before thinking about the visual solution
 - Knowledge of the following softwares: Adobe Premiere, After Effects, Photoshop, Illustrator
 - Ability to present and defend your work clearly
 - Fluent English reading
- You will stand out if:
- Have the ability to conduct and lead projects by yourself and research the best video channels for end users and multimedia strategies
 - Have experience in an end-to-end video project - storytelling, shooting, editing, adding motion graphics
